Portfolio Project

As your final exam grade for this class, I am asking each of you to prepare a portfolio of your work through this year. Your portfolio will include all of the work that you have completed for this class in both written and DVD form. The portfolio for this class is due on June 9th 2010, no exceptions. The portfolio must be in a 3-ring style binder, and include a DVD sleeve for your DVD's. The portfolio will be displayed digitally and physically at this year's TECHNOPALOOZA 2010 on Friday, June 11th 2010. The portfolio will count as your final exam and will equate to 10% of your final average in this class. A plot synopsis will be due for each project prior to the start of the work. The instructors reserve the right to accept or deny the plot synopsis, and it's validity of the use in this portfolio. We will assess your work quarterly and assign due dates for each part of the portfolio.

The contents of your portfolio will be as follows, due dates will be addressed later in this quarter:

- 1- Movie Trailer – Create a short (less than 2 minutes) Movie trailer for a NEW movie sequel. You may use video and music from a vintage movie, and pretend that there will be a remake. Your movie trailer must include the preview splash, as well as voice over and dates. Due Date: _____

- 1- Music Video – You will randomly pick a song from a list of songs pre-approved by your instructors. You must create a video to go along with the song and its lyrics. Begin by printing the lyrics of the song. You may use youtube to get ideas for your video, but you must be creative and develop an original video. Due Date: _____

- 1- Rotoscoping Project - Rotoscoping is an animation technique in which animators trace over live-action film movement, frame by frame, for use in animated films. You must complete a 1-minute Rotoscoping Project of your choice or you may use Rotoscoping in one of your larger projects. Due Date: _____

- 1- Animation – You must complete a short video of a children's song or tale using animation. A list of acceptable children's songs will be provided. You may use any choice of software to create the images and will use flash to animate them.
